NEW HORIZONS
YOUTH MINISTRIES

Dear Friends,

For over 30 years New Horizons Youth Ministries has been a tool for families to redeem and challenge teens for Christ. New Horizons has been an instrument in the restoration of relationships and the building of self-esteem in the Lord. We give God the glory for every family and heart that has been changed.

New Horizons started a Christian grade school for Dominicans in the past year. It has been well received by all the community leaders of Jarabacoa who want their kids to speak English, and we just love teaching them about Jesus. What a privilege for us to be missionaries for God in Jarabacoa! The side benefit from this school is the joy of seeing the lives changed.

We completed our chapel at Escuela Caribe and you should see it--stained glass windows and the view of the mountains. Our students and staff have an awesome feeling when worshiping God "on the mountain". So did I when I shared in our new beautiful chapel. I really thank those people who made it all possible.

What New Horizons is about is structure. This is what the book shows: the "doings" of Escuela Caribe, New Horizons Academy, and Missanabie Woods Academy. Structure allows redemptive relationships to happen. Its not the structure, it's the relationships that count. That is what we are all about-- helping parents and teens play roles (structure) that allow positive relationships to grow. Nurturing both staff and students alike--that is what we are all about.

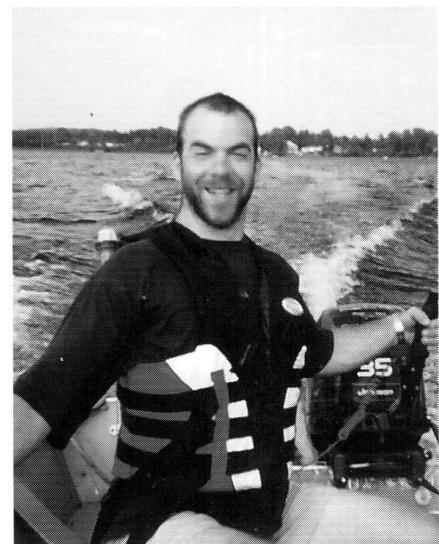

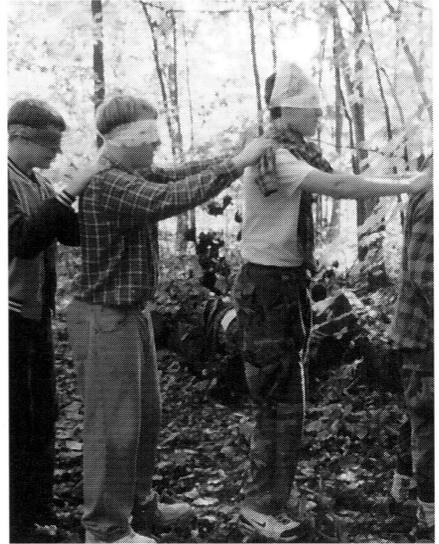

It is our aim for each of New Horizons' staff, students, and parents to develop internal, transparent, and personal relationships: nurturing relationships in the Lord. Thank you for buying this book of remembrances. It is just a small part of our structure showing redemptive relationships.

We know that you don't always get to spend as much time here with us as you'd like, so we thought we'd compile a page of pictures showing you what we really do in our free time. We greatly appreciate all the love and energy you put into us!

If I could sum up the 2000-2001 school year in one word it would be transition. We moved into the new Gordon Blossom School Building, said goodbye to our longtime director Jeff Seabrook and his family, and had a series of acting directors providing leadership for the school. God was faithful to us, however, and showed us that we could find new ways of solving problems. My thanks also to each of the staff for working so hard. Counselors and teachers have enjoyed the new offices and classrooms and all of us have had to adjust to living and working in two buildings instead of one.

The biggest loss has probably been not hearing Mr. Geist yelling “BREAK!!!” throughout the school day. I am thankful for the opportunity to be involved with so many people’s lives and look forward to growing in my time as NHA School Director. To God be the glory!

What a mighty God we serve. He has done wondrous things and His grace is beyond understanding. Through His faithfulness Missanabie Woods Academy has had the great privilege of experiencing one of the best summers ever. Although the student numbers were smaller than in previous years, God's mercy was larger. Many of the hardened hearts were softened through the workings of the Holy Spirit. Staff's lives were strengthened as they gave unselfishly of their time and energy. Much joy and gladness was experienced various times throughout the summer as individuals publicly professed their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Praise Him for His sacrificial life and death that enables us to witness such a wonderful summer. May these pictures remind you of our Lord's saving work in your own life.

May our Heavenly Father richly bless you,
Tony Wormgoor

Escuela Caribe

Where were you when...Certain events are defined by where we stood or by what we were doing at a certain point in time. September 11, 2001, marked one such time for all. We shared in anger over the attacks against innocents, reveled in the bravery of police and fire department, stood with the flag in supporting our military and shared in the renewed level of patriotism and faith our nation discovered.

Stepping up to the challenges of life: Director Phil Redwine pitching for an all-school game.

As Christians, we have already known such points in time. Though we cannot tell where we stood, we have record of where others stood in the shadow of a crucifixion and a resurrection. U.S. history hinges on December 7th and September 11th, but all of history hinges on One Man on one day. If the resurrection determines how we then should live, how should we live following September 11th? Greater than the sorrow we felt at Columbine, greater than the loss of natural disasters, the sorrow of that day changed a nation.

Below) Reflecting on moments at Escuela Caribe

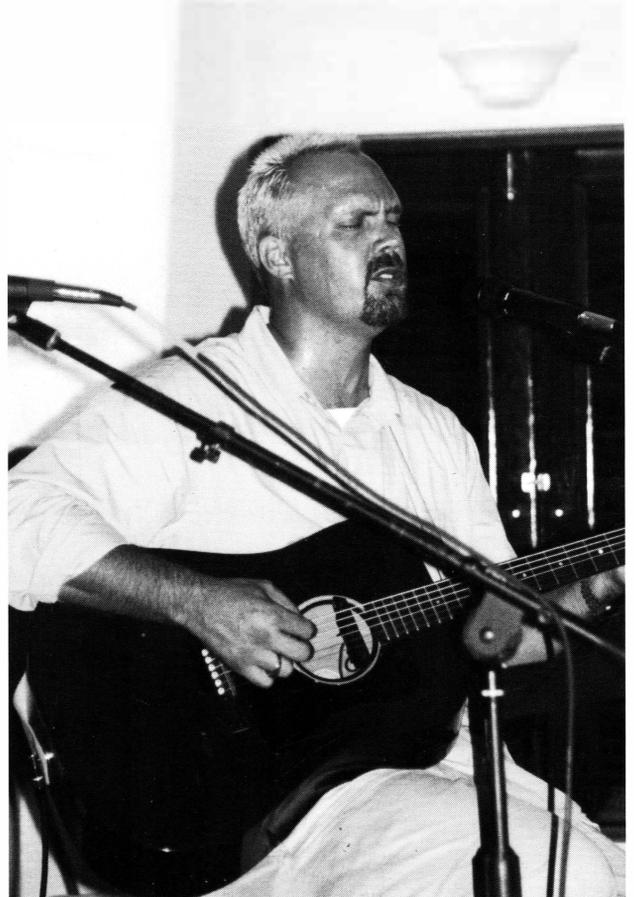

The photos held herein speak of our lives changing, of personal crucifixions and resurrections. They also speak of the key to life: relationships. May you look back on these points in time with fondness and sweet memories, even through hard times.
